County approves bids

Catherine Robillio

In last month's Hickman County Fiscal Court meeting, it was mentioned that the Hickman County Detention Center had recently been struck by lightning for the fourth time.

"We have two different companies coming to look at the building," said Hickman County Judge Executive Greg Pruitt. The companies are coming from Nashville, Tn. and from Bloomfield, Ky. As early as the end of this month, each company has offered, free of charge, to come to the jail in order to view the structure and make recommendations for change.

Once the recommendations have been made, both plans will be reviewed and a decision regarding which company will carry out the work will be made.

Last month, it was motioned that the bids made to the county for rock and hauling should be tabled to allow for consultation. Following the proper consultation, decisions were made Monday evening.

Shawnee Stone was the bid winner for the white rock for the duration of the next fiscal year. A motion was then made and passed that Eason Trucking be responsible for the hauling.

A decision on the bid for the Roscoe Road structure was also tabled last month. After a motion to remove the issue from the table, the Court named Wilkins Construction Company as the winning bid.

"This is the first time we've done this kind of structure," said Pruitt, expressing his appreciation for the Department of Transportation. "They have been there every step of the way."

WRECK - There was a bad wreck on Hwy. 51 right in front of Jewell South around noon on Friday when a mini-van pulled out in front of a tractor trailer driven by Jason Hurley. Hurley, 28, from Linden, Tenn. was on his way back from Wickliffe where he dropped off a load of wood chips at the papermill. According to Hurley, the van pulled out onto the street and stopped like a "deer in the headlights." No information was released by authorities on the name or condition of the driver of the van. Drought creates new insect problems

By Katie Pratt

LEXINGTON, Ky., (July 6, 2012) – Hot, dry weather could have some insects feeding in greater-than-normal numbers on crops like alfalfa, tobacco and some vegetables.

"Alfalfa, with its long tap root, will stay greener and more succulent during a drought than pasture grasses or field crops," said Lee Townsend, extension entomologist in the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. "That makes alfalfa attractive to most any insect that can use it, even if the bug normally doesn't eat alfalfa. Also, irrigated tobacco and vegetables will be very attractive to insects like grasshoppers and stink bugs under these dry conditions."

For alfalfa, the potato leafhopper is often a major pest during the summer. Producers may overlook this tiny insect, because the first indication that this pest is present is the appearance of wedge-shaped yellow areas on the tips of leaves. Diseases and nutritional deficiencies may cause similar yellowing but of whole leaves or entire plants. Stands seeded this past spring and established fields that haven't been harvested in more than 35 days are at the greatest risk of receiving damage from this pest. Harvesting every 35 days, if practical, can help control this insect. After the alfalfa has been harvested, an insecticide application may be needed if the insect population exceeds economic thresholds.

Many caterpillars, including the green cloverworm and alfalfa caterpillar, are present in the

The Rotary Restoration Project

Sheri Roberts

The difference in the before and after pictures of Bobby Brown's building next to City Hall should be an inspiration for all of us. Clinton is such a pretty town which only needs a little cosmetic work to make it quite the attention getter. Two or three years ago, the Arts Council painted several quilt squares and placed them on the courthouse lawn and in the museum yard. Several weeks ago, civic groups got together to fill the old barrels and new flower boxes made by high school students. These were successful first steps. Now, the Rotary Club has established its Restoration Project. A five person committee (Daniel Richardson, Ricky Canty, Allen Poole, Larry Lewis, and Keith Akin) was appointed to carry out the project. According to Allen Poole, they were inspired by the "broken window concept" (no one wants to live in or even enter a building/house with broken windows and other unsightly appearances; however, by taking care of small projects and housekeeping issues, everyone benefits and the doors open). The Rotary Club members wish to do more than just add fresh coats of paint. They hope they can clean up empty lots, fix retaining walls and sidewalks, and make other visual improvements, but they need your help. Poole suggests that people use empty downtown buildings to promote public events such as the Chicken Fest and Civil War Days. Perhaps the high school could even place enlarged basketball schedules and other calendar events in old building windows - anything to make these buildings look a part of the town square. "Clinton is so unique in that we're a proud and close knit group of citizens," said Poole. "If anyone would like to offer their time or talent to any of our projects, please contact me at City Hall," he added.

Drought

crop to some extent every summer.

“With poor growing conditions and limited food sources, they may combine with grasshoppers to cause reduced yields and winter hardness of alfalfa,” Townsend said.

Grasshoppers feed on alfalfa stems and leaves, as well as on tobacco and vegetables. Faced with a limited food supply, adults can fly a good distance to feed. Feeding usually starts along the edges of a field.

“Grasshoppers should be abundant, because the bacteria and fungi that normally provide natural control are not very effective under hot, dry conditions,” he said.

He encouraged producers to carefully watch the edges of fields for grasshopper activity, as extensive damage can occur quickly before a producer realizes there’s a problem.

Insects that normally would not feed on alfalfa, such as tarnished plant bugs and blister beetles, may feed on alfalfa under these conditions, as it’s the most attractive food source. If found in large enough numbers, sap-feeding bugs like the tarnished plant bug can speed up the wilting of stressed plants.

Like grasshoppers, blister beetles will begin feeding along the edge of a field and work their way across. The beetles have long, narrow bodies around an inch long, a broad head and antennae that are about one-third the length of their bodies. Unlike most beetles, their front wings are soft and flexible. The most common species in Kentucky are all black or black with a thin, gray stripe on the wing covers.

They are active in mid-July and early August. They prefer to feed on blooming plants and gather in groups. While they do not cause significant feeding damage to the plant, they are a serious health threat to horses, sheep and cattle that consume either live or dead beetles in alfalfa pastures or hay. To avoid blister beetles, producers should cut alfalfa before blooms appear.

In addition, stink bugs are common pests of tobacco and tomatoes. They feed on the middle of the tobacco leaf, which can collapse the plant leaf tissue starting from that point and turn the leaf yellow, especially in hot weather. Because it takes a day or two for the leaf to turn yellow, the bugs will have moved on before producers can make an insecticide application.

Text change states when Rate GS deposit may be waived in conjunction with taking service under Rate RS.

Kentucky Utilities Company proposes to change the text of the following electric tariffs: General Service Rate GS, All Electric School Rate AES, Power Service Rate PS, Time-of-Day Secondary Service Rate TODS, Time-of-Day Primary Service Rate TODP, Retail Transmission Service Rate RTS, Fluctuating Load Service Rate FLS, Street Lighting Service Rate ST. Changes to the Terms and Conditions include proposed clarifications on terms and conditions for determining customer rate assignments, as well as when standby or supplemental service must be purchased if customer desires non-firm service.

Although KU is not proposing to change the text of its Fuel Adjustment Clause ("FAC"), other than the correction of a minor typographical error in Paragraph (3), it is proposing to recover certain costs through the FAC to ensure that the correct amounts are collected through base rates and the FAC.

Complete copies of the proposed tariffs containing text changes and proposed rates may be obtained by contacting Lonnie E. Bellar, Kentucky Utilities Company at 220 West Main Street, Louisville, Kentucky, 502-627-4830, or visiting Kentucky Utilities Company's website at www.lge-ku.com.

This summer the Hickman County Jr. High and Varsity cheerleading squads hosted a cheer camp from June 4 – 7 at HCHS; the theme of the week was “Light the Fire” and both squads did just that. There were 30 participants who all gave 110% during the NCA cheerleading camp. During this week, the girls worked extremely hard on learning new material for the upcoming year such as floor cheers, chants, stunts, dances, and a full routine. The NCA instructors saw great potential in these young ladies based on their outstanding hard work and dedication to cheerleading and their squad. The two instructors nominated 18 girls for the All American Cheerleading Team based upon their leadership roles, jumps, motions, tumbling, stunting abilities, and most of all their safety skills. The nominees for the varsity cheer squad were Kennady Yarbro, De’Ja Bowles, Kayla Roach, Chenise Thomas, Katie Woolard, Hallie Wilkey, Abbey Coffey, Lexie Crass and Breeanna Beck. Nominees for the Jr. High cheer squad were Julie Jackson, Keara Williams,

SENIOR CHATTER with Tammie

Well, I made it through my first week! So, I guess I am staying! It really has been an adventure. I have just figured out what keys go to what doors. Also, I have learned to always put the supply key back where it is supposed to be because the kitchen workers will be oh so upset with you if you don't! I am glad they forgave me. I want all of the seniors to be careful in this hot weather. I will be so glad when it rains a little more! I know all of the farmers agree with me. Speaking of getting hot under the collar, we have had one break down after another lately. Our van's radiator bit the dust and so did its air conditioner! I think it's telling us it's too hot to be driving around. Even so, the show must go on and there's nothing that's going to make us stop transporting our seniors. Therefore, we are going to have to get our van serviced once again. You may think wow that is a lot of bad luck. Well, to top it off, our icemaker had to be replaced! Is this a good time to say we need donations? We really do appreciate them and as you can tell we use every ounce of money to just keep this little ole' place running. I am so happy to be around all of the wonderful senior citizens that come and take part in our activities at the center. I have enjoyed spending time getting to know all of you. If any family member has suggestions on how we can be more efficient, please let us know. Also, I need some fundraising ideas, and I have placed a suggestion box on the table as you come in the door. Speaking of fundraisers, I am so excited to let you know that we are in the process of cleaning out some of our rooms, and we will be having a yard sale in our back room on July 20 (Friday) and July 21 (Saturday). I will let you know the exact times next week. I want to thank all of the family members of the seniors of our county for coming by and helping us when we need it. Since I am on the subject of “HELP,” I would like to ask anyone that has a spare moment to come to our center and help us get ready for our indoor yard sale. If you have an hour to give, that would be so very appreciated. You may ask why we are clearing our back rooms out.

Baylee Estes, Aliya Richards, Christina Harper, Laken Grubbs, Kortnee Woolard, Alison Petit and Mallory Coates. Eight of the girls tried out for the All American Team (three Varsity and five Jr. High). The four that made the squad were Kennady Yarbro, Kayla Roach, Abbey Coffey and Julie Jackson. They will get the magical experience of participating in the 2012 NCA Christmas Extravaganza at Disney World in Florida in November. They will be televised on Christmas morning on ABC, cheering in the Disney Christmas Parade. The cheerleaders are asking for the support of this amazing community and donations to help them achieve this wonderful opportunity. Any money raised will go towards paying for the trip to Disney World, which includes their rooms, uniforms, meals and performance package. The coaches would like to thank all of the cheerleaders for their hard work and dedication, as well as the parents, administration and community for their awesome support.

Our senior center has a great exercise facility and we want to share it with the community. We are getting our program together. Likewise, we are going to start an aerobic class. Let me know what type you prefer. For instance, I have had some Zumba, Hip-Hop Abs, and Yoga. I need the community's input on how to serve your exercise needs. In the next few weeks, I will let everyone know more details on the schedule and prices. The following is our activity schedule: Wednesday, July 11-10:30-BloodPressure Check-Melinda Swader; 12:30-Music-Tom Hoskins; 1:00-Bulls Eye - Thursday, July 12-10:30-Bible Study-Brother Max Cooper; 1:00-Bingo-Friday July 13-10:30-Medicinal Herbs-Denise Berryhill; 1:00-Dominos-Tuesday, July 17-10:30-Chair VolleyBall; 1:30-Cognitive Games; 2:00 Bookmobile Menu for the week: Wednesday, July 11-Meatloaf, Mashed Potatoes, Baby Lima Beans, Whole Wheat Roll, Margarine Cup, Sliced Strawberries, and Skim Milk. Thursday, July 12-Sweet & Sour Pork, Rice, Buttered Broccoli, Whole Wheat Roll, Fortune Cookie, Frozen Fruit Salad, and Skim Milk. Friday, July 13-Baked Country Fried Steak, Mashed Potatoes w/ Gravy, Spinach Salad, Whole Wheat Bread, Chocolate Cake, and Skim Milk. Monday, July 16-Hamburger on Bun, Relish Plate, Baked Potato, Margaine Cup & Sour Cream, Calico Slaw, Fruit Cup and Skim Milk. Tuesday, July 17-Herb Baked Chicken, New Potatoes, Stewed Tomatoes & Okra, Whole Wheat Roll, Peach Slices, Margarine Cup, and Skim Milk. Have the best week and remember to stop by for a visit!

Do this one for Billy Holland.

Billy, a faithful member of the Red Cross blood drive volunteer staff, passed away this summer. He's already been missed around town, but on Monday, July 23, his absence will be very apparent. So, come on July 23 and give blood in memory of Billy and in honor of his years of faithful service, both as a donor and as a volunteer. Appointments can be made online at redcross.org, enter Clinton code 19, or anticipate a call from a local volunteer to make your appointment. Bro. Paul Murphy preached two excellent messages on Sunday. His family came with him. We have had some very good messengers from God recently. Pray that we will soon find the pastor God wants us to have. We are very excited about our VBS this week. Bonnie Lou & Buster made an appearance Sunday morning to give us a preview. If you've ever been to our VBS, you know they are two of our puppets the children all love. VBS is from 6 – 8:30 each night. Happy birthday to Lori Fisher and Kandi Schooley on July 11 and to Janice Glasco on July 18. On our prayer list this week were William Moore, Bo Kirby, Harold Jackson, Bentley Cross, J.T. Melton, Dorothy McNutt, Teen Garrison, Ruth Brewer, the Sid Smith family, Phillip Crowe, Lula Belle Puckett, Charles Cannon and Cindy, Shirley Wooten, George and Karen Roberts, our leaders and our military. Several from the church went to visit the Roberts Tuesday night.

The Wilderness Voice

By Pastor Tom Hoskins

Beware of self-sufficiency apart from Christ. The self in us sets us up like a bowling pin, but it also strikes us down. “Let him that thinks he stands take heed lest he fall” (1Cor. 10:12). We fall as the enemy strikes us blow upon blow like pins before an expert bowler. Make no mistake Satan is an expert. He has been around much longer than we, but he is no match for Christ in us as yielded vessels. Therein lies our strength to withstand every fiery dart, every blow of the wicked one, every shot thrown our way. Jesus said, “Without me you can do nothing.” (John 15:). Paul the apostle learned the secret, “Through Christ (his strength, power, and leading) I can do all things.” (Phil. 4:13). Am I standing or being struck down?

A Salute to our Servicemen

By Daniel Richardson

Ssgt. Nadia Sensing, USMC

This week’s featured local serviceman is actually a servicewoman. SSgt. Nadia Sensing of VMA 2/14 of the United States Marine Corps is anything but your typical woman in uniform. During her almost eight year career in the Corps, she has done more than many Marines accomplish in 20 years or more.

After graduating from Fulton City high school in 2002, Sensing attended Lindsey Wilson College in Columbia, Ky. where she played basketball. In 2004 Sensing shipped off to Parris Island, S.C. to begin her illustrious military career. After 13 weeks of recruit training, she went to Pensacola, Fla. to be trained as a Harrier Engine Mechanic. After completing her training, Sensing went to the Air Wing at Cherry Point, N.C. and became part of VMA 2/23. In August of 2005, she deployed to Iraq with 2/23 in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom. While in Iraq, 2/23 was stationed at Al Asad Air Base.

After two and a half years at Cherry Point, Sensing returned to Parris Island to attend Drill Instructor’s School. The school lasted three months and then

Ssgt. Nadia Sensing

Sgt. Sensing went to Oscar Company, 4th Training Battalion as a Drill Instructor. During her three-year stay at Parris Island, Sensing was promoted to Staff Sergeant, and served as a Senior Drill Instructor.

“I loved being a Drill Instructor and being back on Parris Island,” Sensing said when asked about the very demanding task of serving as a Drill Instructor on Parris Island. Marine Drill Instructors work very long days, sometimes starting as early as 4 a.m. and going on until at least 9 p.m. normally. In addition to these hours, one Drill Instructor must stay in the squad-bay with the recruits each night. Even with an equal rotation, this means they can expect to spend at least two nights per week with the recruits. But they aren’t alone for long. The other D.I.s will show up at least 30 minutes before the recruits are woken up.

When Sensing left Parris Island, She went to Yuma, Ariz. to join VMA 2/14. In November of 2011, she went with 2/14 on the 11th MEU (Marine Expeditionary Unit). MEUs are the mechanism that allows the Marines to have boots on the ground anywhere in the world in less than 24 hours. Marines and Sailors sail around different parts of the world for months at a time.

“We went to Singapore,

Oman, Jordan, Malaysia, Hong Cong, just so many places,” Sensing said when describing her experience with the 11th MEU that sailed the South Pacific Ocean, Indian Ocean, and the Red Sea.

SSgt. Sensing now serving as a Staff NCO-IC (Staff Non-Commissioned Officer – In Charge) for VMA 2/14, and preparing for deployment on the 13th MEU next June. Sensing is a black belt in MCMAP (Marine Corps Martial Arts Program) and has aspirations to attend the Black Belt Instructor-Trainer course in Quantico, Va. This is a grueling 10-week course. Participants must be in top physical condition in conjunction with mastering hand-to-hand combat. If SSgt. Sensing attends and graduates from the course, she will be certified to train black belt instructors. MCMAP was developed in 2001 as a combination of 14 martial arts disciplines from around the world. It is not only used to teach Marines hand-to-hand combat and close-quarters combat, but also to encourage teamwork and to instill the Warrior Ethos. MCMAP also stresses character development, including the responsible use of force, leadership, and teamwork.

“I’m going to stay in as long as they will let me,” Sensing said when asked about the potential length of her career. Most career Marines get out after 20 years, but some are able to stay as long as 30.

JOY – “Just Over Youth”

Lessons in Art

Vida McClure

Hickman County is so blessed to have a great variety of people with talents and skills. On top of having those people as our neighbors, they are also willing to share those knowledge, talents, and skills. JOY – a group of men and women who, for the most part, are over 60 years of age and enjoy stretching their brains, learning new things, and often sharing their talents with each other (folks like Prunella, Ethel, Thelma, Ader, and Daisy Mae at our Local Talent Show). (It is up to you to figure out who these folks were. Hint: they are all participants in JOY!)

On Monday, July 16 at noon there will be another gathering of JOY at Clinton First United Methodist Young Center. Most of the time folks start arriving about 11:45 a.m., bringing their “dish” with them. (Most of the time the meal is pot-luck.) The kitchen crew takes the dishes, heats them if necessary, and does what we Methodist call “puts out the spread.” You will find new dishes of food (sometimes experimental dishes), some “tried and true” dishes, and a lot of the traditional stuff – like Dorothy Nell’s creamed potatoes swimming in a lake of real butter, or homemade bread by Sue Williams or Barbara Thomas. You haven’t had bread until you have eaten their breads. Yes, we enjoy the food, but there is a lot more to our meetings.

We have the pleasure of conversing with our neighbors and friends – even making new friends. You will find a few Baptists, some Assembly of God, and more Methodist – we are definitely a mixed group - a group of individuals who enjoy each other. Church membership or race matters not to us. All our welcome!

At our July meeting we are pleased to have Reverend Ricky Harrison with us. Ricky has been the pastor at Oakton Baptist Church for thirty-one years. He also teaches K-12 Art in our county schools. At this meeting, Ricky will be giving us an overview of Christian art. He will also be sharing how images of art have changed over the years. Many of you are aware that Clinton/Hickman County has an active Arts Council. This is just another avenue of advancing art in its many forms in our community to as many people as possible.

You have a personal invitation to come join us Monday, July 16. We would appreciate your confirming your attendance by calling the church office at 653-3241 or Vida McClure at 653-3352.

Falcon Academy. What’s next??

A program that had such humble beginnings as a way to offer a few new college classes has emerged as one of the leading dual credit programs across the state and nation. As you may have seen on WPSD, Hickman County High School has received many honors and recognitions because of it. Work is being done every day to mold this program into a model for other schools. Many now are asking us “what’s new for this program in the upcoming school year?”

This program has evolved in many ways for the 2012-2013 school year. The sheer number of courses has grown to the point where Hickman County High School is offering a multitude of university studies courses for both juniors and seniors. Last year, five juniors took dual credit classes. In the fall, we have 52 juniors signed up for at least one dual credit course. This growth gives us a projection of over 1100 college hours expected to be earned at the end of school year. That is simply amazing!!

One of the main reasons for the increase in enrollment is the new public speaking courses offered by Murray State University. Students who enroll in these classes will take an introduction into public speaking in the fall semester and an interpersonal communications class in the spring semester for a total of six hours of dual college credit. These classes will be taught by our business teacher, Mrs. Jeanna Kimbell, and Mrs. Dianne Owen, our instructional supervisor, who will serve as an adjunct professor at MSU. Our district and the students feel it will be a wonderful opportunity to develop necessary skills in communication to obtain jobs in the future. MSU is also partnering with us on a new pilot Agriculture Economics course through the Hutson’s College of Ag. This will be taught by our new agriculture teacher, Darian Irvin and will give our students who want to work in the field of agriculture a better understanding of agribusiness budgeting.

So now that the Falcon Academy has included more students, will it still be offered to the students at no cost? Our goal is that this program will continue to be offered at no cost to the students and parents of Hickman County as long as we offer it. We are extremely optimistic that we can continue to offer these courses free of charge due to the outpouring of support we have received from the community in partnering with us in the success of our students. To date, we have 23 Falcon Academy sponsors who have given over $20,000 in just the last year for deserving students to have an opportunity to take college courses at Hickman County High School. Our district has planned a Falcon Academy Celebration for August 14th, 2012, at 1:00 p.m. in the Hickman County High School Gymnasium to recognize our sponsors and the commitment of the students who are aspiring for a better future. With their continued support and the new sponsors we hope to welcome in the future, we feel good about the economic future of the program even

My View

Happy Anniversary

It was 37 years ago Thursday that Lisa and I stood at the altar at the Camden church of Christ and pledged our wedding vows.

How can it be that long when it seems like only yesterday?

I will admit that it was not a bed of roses in the beginning. I mean she is a Taurus and I am an Aries. We butted heads many times before I became much wiser and agreed that she was right all along. It was like the old saying “marriage is when a man and a woman become as one; the trouble starts when they try to decide which one.”—Unknown.

Times were simpler then before many complications of life set in. I know I have made more than my share of mistakes over the almost four decades and there were times when I wasn’t sure if we would make it, but we grew to love and understand one another more completely as years passed.

All the children are grown and three of the four are married, the oldest blessing us with three grandchildren and the youngest expecting to become a dad in his own right later this month.

We were originally planning to get married on July 5, but something occurred that postponed the day for a week. That made the wedding date fall on my mother-in-law’s birthday.

The preacher that married us passed away some years ago, too early in life.

Sometimes we dig out the wedding photos and remember on how it was then.

Our honeymoon was short, a trip to Memphis, because I had barely enough pull at my new job at the Paris newspaper to get the following Monday off.

Changes in job opportunities brought us probably too many moves through the years and in 1996 ,our moves brought us full circle to settle in her home town.

All the band contests, football games, gymnastics, trips, business ventures, softball games, trips to visit sons at their military duty stations, and battles with landscaping have strengthened our marriage.

There are many who have been married longer and many more who have become divorced since we tied our knot that Saturday evening.

Although sometimes couples have valid reasons for splitting up, I encourage them to stay together if at all possible to work out the differences.

And in case I forget to say “Happy Anniversary” Thursday (I am sure I will NOT), maybe this column will help save my hide.

OLD TIME REMINISCING

BY J.W.CHANDLER

Not many weekly papers come out on your birthday, but the Gazette did today. I have to say 85 is not too bad. You have people ask you a lot of questions about time passed. When I look back, I can remember when there were eight or nine grocery stores around the court square, gas stations on the corners, and how the fronts of many stores looked.

Yes, I can remember when Hwy. 51 was paved from the north city limits to the Carlisle County line and when 62 Highway was gravel from Bardwell to Paducah. I can also remember special places and great people: Mr. Wood Ringo and the Star Milling Co.; Shorty Payne and the Tiny Tavern; Warren (Soffy), Quigley (Dummy), and Paul at Brummals Grocery; Henry Alexander at First National Bank; Ruben Griffin at Clinton Bank; Calvin and Earnest Hilliard; George Kane blowing the whistle at Star Milling Co. at noon; Willona Kane performing janitorial service; Bowden at John Walker Hales Service Station; Mr. Hal Macphettters and many, many more.

There are so many questions I still ponder. For example, in 1989 I retired from the Clinton Post Office due to reduction in personnel. Why has it taken them 22 years for them to figure out that they’re in trouble?

On the positive side, we had such fun working at the Post Office. Joe Ward, rural carrier, once got a bee in his pants and had to undress on the run. Truman Allison, city carrier, found a silk hose in his delivery bag, and Stanly Griffin did a Mexican hat dance on the work room floor. The post masters that I worked with (Latta, Wheeler, and Long) were fun to work with and such great people; we all enjoyed providing service to the public.

I think that maybe these were the best of times. Politicians today are at each other’s throats with no compromise in sight, I think, too, of what Bill Cosby had to say, “I am 76, and I am glad that I am on the way out instead of on the way in. I feel sorry for my grandchildren.”

Maybe times will get better; I hope so! For now, I’ll tell everyone I’m 30 and celebrate this 85th birthday by remembering the “good ole days.”

Oak Hill Country Club hosts “twilight golf”

Sheri Roberts

Oakhill Country Club sponsored two fun events this week. On Wednesday, July 4, some members cooled off in the pool, some enjoyed a delicious potluck dinner, and ten four person teams competed in a very “different” golf tournament. Each team was given fifteen feet of twine and a pair of scissors. You will have to ask Bobby Gifford how that worked, but with three teams tying at 23 under, “different” may not be a strong enough word. Then, on Friday night, if you drove past Oakhill, you might have seen glowing orbs flying through the dark night sky (otherwise, known as twilight golf). Nine teams played nine holes in daylight, enjoyed hot dogs and hamburgers, and then played the final nine holes with special “glow balls.” Unbelievably, no one got hit, and some even decided they played much better when they couldn't see what they were doing! Trent Johnson's team won and a good time was had by all.

SCHOLARSHIP - Lisa Rushing, representing the Clinton Bank Trust Department, presents a check from the Craddock Memorial Scholarship to Amber Garcia, this year's recipient. Amber, the daughter of Ladonna Brockwell and Chris Brockwell, will be attending Murray State University in Murray, KY this fall to study nursing.
